Dear GP

We have been working hard to reinstate our GP CPD lectures and are excited to announce we will shortly be mailing out details for our first Zoom Webinar.

We have been unable to hold our usual series of lectures on site due to social distancing measures, so have embraced new technology to bring back these free lectures.

We hope to hold 2/3 webinars by the year end (starting in October). Our Marketing Dept will be in touch with you with instructions and sign up details.

Consultant of the Month

Mr Omar Abu-Bakr is a Specialist Venous Surgeon and Phlebologist for The Whiteley Clinic. He studied his medical degree in Romania and alongside practising to become a general surgeon, he found his passion in treating varicose veins. He has been practicing venous surgery for over 13 years, with adding to his experience; he continues to study on the side.

Mr Omar Abu-Bakr has continued to push forward since starting at The Whiteley Clinic. He has accomplished being the first surgeon to present a technique for treating huge varicose veins with a diameter of 2.5cm and more at The College of Phlebology's Second International Meeting in London 2018 – in which he was awarded the second prize for the best scientific paper.

Along with this accomplishment, Mr Omar has excelled tenfold at The Whiteley Clinic by being the second surgeon in the UK, after Professor Mark Whiteley, for performing Endovenous Microwave Ablation as well as Echotherapy treatment with SONOVEIN (High Intensity Focused Ultrasound – HIFU) which is exclusively available at The Whiteley Clinic.

While Mr Omar Abu-Bakr has a passion for all things veins, he is also a Specialist in general Ultrasonography as well as a Fellow of The College of Phlebology and fellow of the American College of Phlebology to name but a few.

When a patient has a consultation and does not like the sight of their varicose veins or is potentially concerned about their vein health, Mr Omar Abu-Bakr will provide expert advice and award-winning treatment solutions following The Whiteley Protocol, which has been set as the benchmark for treating veins and venous conditions.
